Tyler Haynes Commons (270 Richmond Way)

Bonner Center for Civic Engagement: The CCE supports community programs offered through UR and supports students who engage in service projects with partner organizations located throughout Richmond. You can choose between caring for dogs through BARK, feeding those in need as part of the Food Access Coalition, or fighting educational gaps with Students for Educational Equality, among many more opportunities.

Center for Student Involvement: Home to over 175 registered student organizations and 30 sports clubs, the CSI provides opportunities for engagement and leadership on campus.

Weinstein Center for Recreation (361 College Road)

Our campus recreation center is top-of-the-line for those who aspire to work out, but it's much more than that. It also includes a pool, sauna, and plenty of camping equipment to take on your trip to the nearby Blue Ridge Mountains. Rent your camping equipment (and more) through the Outdoor Adventure and Recreation Center and sign up for trips like mountain biking, kayaking, and rock climbing.

Well-Being Center (363 College Rd)

Opened in 2020, the Well-Being Center provides the tools to support a balanced and healthy life, including an organic cafe, meditation space, massage rooms, a dietitian, the Student Health Center, Counseling and Psychological Services, and Karla—UR's therapy dog.

Robins Stadium (371 College Road)

While we pride ourselves on strong academics here at UR, our Division I sports teams aren't too shabby either. Drop by the Robins Stadium to get a sense for how serious we are about athletics. Our football team draws up to 8,700 fans on game days. The stadium is also home to our highly competitive men's and women's lacrosse teams, as well as women's soccer and track and field. Consider becoming one of the Richmond Rowdies, our student superfans. Across from Robins Stadium is the Robins Center, home of Spider basketball. You will also find our Division I teams in action at the Westhampton Tennis Complex, Pitt Field (baseball), Crenshaw Field (field hockey), Robins Center Natatorium (women's swimming & diving), and Independence Golf Club.

Intramural Fields and Odyssey Course (159 UR Drive)

Conveniently located near the Queally Center and campus apartments, the Intramural Fields are home to many of our 50+ club and intramural teams. With activities ranging from rugby to Spikeball—there's something for everybody. Or, if you're more interested in casual sports with friends, check out our outdoor basketball and sand volleyball courts. While you're there, you might notice our big, wooden Odyssey Ropes Course, perfect for unique team-building exercises. After all the fun, take a break in one of our hammock pods.

Walking and running trails

The University of Richmond features diverse terrain, which is why a trip around our walking and running trails can be both beautiful and breathtaking. With three primary loops, we have trails that will take you across the lake, through our hills, and past the incredible architecture on our campus. If you seek a more active trip around campus, check out our 18-hole Disc Golf Course, which weaves around the lake, near the President's House, and through some of our prettiest landscapes.
