Imagine yourself here.

A GLOBAL DESTINATION

Our warm and welcoming community, renowned faculty, and beautiful campus make Richmond a popular choice for ambitious students seeking an exceptional education in America. In 2021, more than 320 international students chose to make Richmond their home away from home, building on a legacy of others who have gone on to achieve incredible things.

YICHI ZHANG ’13 majored in international finance and marketing at UR before earning a master’s degree. He has since been named to Forbes China’s 30 Under 30 and founded two companies. His latest venture provides customers—from CEOs to music producers—with brand management.

“At the Robins School of Business, everyone is kind. I appreciated this kindness when I was in school, but never realized how rare, beautiful, and powerful it is until working.”

LINA TORI JAN ’20. Shaped by her experiences growing up as a Hazara minority in war-torn Afghanistan, Tori Jan began volunteering with the International Rescue Committee during her first year at UR. She’s now the founder and executive director of Chai wa Dastan (Tea and Tale) — a social initiative committed to sharing the stories and lessons of empowerment, resilience, and leadership of Afghani refugees and immigrants.

“These women are often overlooked by society. I wanted to provide a platform for them to share their stories and culture with a wide audience — and to connect with one other, know they are not alone, and find a sense of community.”

SABRINA ESCOBAR MIRANDA ’19 pursued leadership studies and journalism at UR. Always fascinated by the differences between the U.S. and El Salvador, she’s now studying the culture of her home country at the University of Oxford.

“Joining the Jepson School of Leadership Studies was the best thing I could have done as an undergraduate. It challenged me to think about my biases through in-depth discussions with classmates and professors.”
